Spring Comparison Course

Themis will be providing course materials for the Spring 2025 Comparison course.

Course Components: Each subject is broken up into 4 topic-specific modules. Each module contains a portion of the outline, a series of video lectures, 15 multiple-choice questions, and 1 essay.

- Outlines – The outlines are fully searchable and should be fully reviewed and studied prior to watching video lectures.
- Lectures – Each lecture is 15-20 minutes, and each is focused on a specific topic. You will be assigned these lectures as a pre-class assignment.
 - When completing the lectures, please be sure to fill out the accompanying lecture handout, which will serve as your main review tool throughout the course.
 - Once you have completed a video chapter, answer the assessment questions to gauge your understanding of the material.
- Multiple-Choice Questions and MEE Essays – Topic-specific questions help you take the law and apply it to specific factual scenarios.

UWorld Learning Platform with MBE QBank

Logging In:

- Go to www.lp.uworld.com/login
 - Use the credential sent to you by Themis/UWorld
- After you login, you may change your temporary password

The UWorld MBE QBank is an assessment tool consisting of over 2,000 practice multiple-choice questions. Over 1,375 questions are released, licensed MBE questions from the National Conference of Bar Examiners.

The QBank allows you to build custom practice quizzes, consisting of multiple-choice questions from the subject(s) and/or subtopic(s) of your choosing. Each question is accompanied by robust answer explanations, containing visual aids, learning links, and educational objectives. You will receive real-time quiz results and performance analytics, and also have the ability to create digital flashcards. In addition, your professors will also create quizzes on the platform for homework and in-class exercises.

Tutorial videos will be available once you have been registered for the course.

The Best Ways to Use QBank:

- The QBank can be used to practice or apply the law in specific topics covered in class. For instance, if you just finished studying Hearsay in Evidence, you might want to practice some questions on that topic.
- Identify strengths and weaknesses. As you continue to practice questions and receive results, you will be able to identify the subtopics where you may need additional help. You can then do additional practice in these areas.

Structure of the Course

The course is comprised of:

1. The Seven (7) Substantive Law Sections:

- A. The substantive sections are: Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, Contracts/Art. 2, Crimes (Criminal Law and Procedure), Evidence, Real Property, and Torts (see Comp Calendar for assigned order). Each section will be covered in blocks of two weeks apiece. Classes will be three (3) days a week: Mondays and Wednesdays from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. (Day) and 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. (Evening) and Saturdays (generally) from 9:00 a.m. to noon (usually, the first half of the session is devoted to MEE coverage of the subject and the second half will be the “Bar Exam Skills” session (schedule is subject to change). There are a few adjustments made to the schedule for federally recognized holidays.
- B. Prior to the first class of each substantive section, you must listen to the assigned lectures on the Themis platform and fill in the lecture handout that goes with the lectures. The fillable pdfs are located in the “Handout Library” on the Themis platform.

You must submit on TWEN the completed lecture handout for Module 1 by 11:59 pm on the Sunday preceding the start of the section (see Comp Calendar) and you must submit the remainder (Module 2, 3, 4 lecture handouts) on TWEN by 11:59 pm on the first Wednesday of each section. You will find each assignment under “Assignment & Quizzes” on TWEN. Failure to timely submit each section of the lecture handout on TWEN will result in a 5-point reduction, which could make the difference between passing or failing the section or the course.

ALL SUBMISSIONS must include your Students ID number on the upper right-hand corner of the document. Failure to include your ID number on an assignment will be deemed a non-submission and subject to the 5-point reduction.

You should prepare properly to make sure you complete and submit the lecture handouts on time. This will also help form a foundation for success for the rest of the section, and ultimately for the bar exam. Here are the steps you should take to start each section on the right foot:

1. Begin to prepare as soon as the final exam for the prior section is over and continue to prepare until you complete the lecture handouts.
Remember: Module 1 Lecture Handout is due on TWEN by 11:59 pm on the Sunday before the section begins.

2. Continue your preparation by going to the Strategies & Tactics section at the beginning of each substantive section in the Strategies & Tactics book. These seven introductions to the specific substantive sections provide excellent study and test taking tips. These sections will help you immensely. This book is available at the MSLAW reserve desk.
 3. Once you have listened to the assigned Module lectures, complete the assessment questions that follow. Then, complete the 15 MBE questions for the Module. You must prepare these questions in advance of class so the section Professor can go over the results and identify any areas that need additional explication in class.
 4. Some professors will have placed written study aids and other helpful supplemental materials on the TWEN site. Each of the professors has a subject matter page on the Comparison TWEN site, e.g., Civil Procedure, Contracts. You should check to see if those materials are on the TWEN site and, if so, study them.
 5. Each section professor will also assign tasks on UWorld. Make sure to complete the questions/assignments and/or use self-study mode. With each question or each assignment, make sure to review the explanations for each and every question you complete. While you will not receive a grade for completing these assignments, they are required because they are an invaluable tool towards learning and applying the material. Also, the section professor will be reviewing individual and class performance on UWorld.
 6. Each of the substantive law sections in the Strategies & Tactics book has 65 to 70 MBE questions with answers and explanations. You should do these questions carefully and thoroughly. This means that you should understand the legal reasons for each right and wrong answer for each question. Merely doing the questions and checking your answers is a wasted effort. You need to understand the law and reasoning of each question to prepare properly.
 7. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, please understand that you should approach each section – indeed, the entire course – as a means of laying a solid foundation that will help you reach your ultimate goal: passing the bar exam on the first attempt. Trying to do only enough to eke by in each section (a task-oriented approach rather than a goal-oriented approach) will lead to success neither in this course nor on the bar exam.
- C. Quizzes: Each substantive law section will include (i) a minimum of four 5-question quizzes administered during class and (ii) an optional Quiz (professor option). Each of these (4 or more) quizzes will carry a total value of 5 points and your highest three scores will be averaged to create a quiz score ranging from 0 to 5. If you miss a class, you may only make up a quiz if you can provide medical documentation

- justifying your absence. You must also make up the quiz before the start of the next class or else you will not be permitted a make-up quiz. Since we average the top 3 scores, you will have an opportunity to take the remaining quizzes and improve your score.
- D. You will also complete a 30-minute essay in class on Saturday, which will be graded, and the score will be added to your total score calculation for each section.
 - E. You must also complete all 4 module MEE essays and submit on TWEN by 11:59 pm on the second Wednesday of each section. You are not permitted to use any sample answers when drafting your answers. Doing so results in an Honor Code violation and will be reported. You must submit complete essay responses in order to be credited for your submission. Incomplete responses or responses lacking meaningful discussion of the issues will not be considered. Failure to submit the essays will result in a 5-point score reduction.
 - F. Each section will conclude with a 45-question section final exam, with each question counting one (1) point for a total section final exam of 45 points.
 - G. The passing score for each section is 36.5. The highest score you can achieve per section is 55 points. Your total score for the section will be determined by adding:
 - a. Up to 5 points from the in-class quiz average.
 - b. Up to 5 points from the Saturday in-class essay.
 - c. Up to 45 points from the section final exam.

2. Your Section Scores Comprise Half of Your Final Score

At the completion of the seven substantive sections, your final score from each section will be added and averaged. The following rules apply in determining whether you have qualified to take the course final exam at this point (you cannot pass the course without qualifying to take the final exam):

- A. There are 385 possible points you can achieve at the end of the seven multistate sections ($55 \times 7 = 385$). The passing score for each section is 36.5. You must achieve at least 255.5 points ($36.5 \times 7 = 255.5$) to qualify for the final exam. The passing and qualifying scores are firm because there must be a cutoff somewhere and this is what the collective faculty has decided must be the cutoff. You will not be allowed to take the course final exam if you achieve less than 255.5 (36.5 average) points after adding the scores of the seven sections.
- B. You also must pass four (4) of the seven (7) sections with a final score of at least 36.5 to qualify to take the final exam. Once you fail a fourth section, you will immediately become disqualified from taking the final exam, although you may finish out the sections only for the purpose of practice for the next semester. If you are disqualified from taking the final exam, you may continue attending classes and taking the quizzes, but you may not take the remaining section final exams.

3. A Six-Hour, 200-Question MBE Style Exam Comprises the Other Half of Your Final Score

For those who qualify, on Saturday, May 3rd, 2025, you will take a 200-question, six-hour, “multistate” (multiple choice) final examination. For standard-time takers, the exam will be given in one (1) “Morning” session (9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.) and one (1) “Afternoon” session (1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.). Students with extra-time accommodations will take the final exam over the course of two days (Saturday, May 3rd and Sunday, May 4th); we will be giving notice to students with extra-time accommodations in advance of May 3rd and only after the students have qualified for the course final exam.

On the course final exam, each correct answer counts for 1 point and you can score up to 200 points.

4. Scoring and Passing the Course

After adding your section average and course final exam score, you must have a Final Score of 166.5 to pass the course. Students scoring a 166.5 or better will receive a “Pass” for the course. Students with a 210 score or more at the end of the course will receive a “Pass with Honors” for the course. Students who have previously failed to satisfactorily complete the course may not pass with honors regardless of how well they perform when they do pass. Students who score less than a 166.5 (or who have failed to qualify for the final exam) will receive an Unsatisfactory/Incomplete (UI) grade for the course and will have to repeat it successfully to graduate. Students who are enrolled in the course but do not complete assignments, quizzes, and finals when eligible, will receive an F in the course.

5. Bar Exam Skills Sessions (see Calendar for Dates and Times)

On non-exam Saturdays, Professor Panagakis will conduct bar skills sessions, including essays and MPTs that seek to help you improve your test-taking skills for the bar exam. To receive a grade for completing the assignments and graded essay, you must attend the Saturday essay and bar skills sessions.

6. Quizzes and Exams

A. All quizzes will be administered on campus on the Themis platform. You cannot take a quiz remotely. Unauthorized access of quizzes will result in disciplinary action.

B. All students taking quizzes and exams on paper (per approved medical accommodations) shall be required to bring two #2 pencils to all quizzes and exams. For graded essays, students who have been approved to handwrite the essay must use a black non-erasable ink pen. No highlighters will be permitted for any quizzes or exams.

C. All exams and in class essays will be taken on ExamSoft.

7. Other Relevant Course Policies

- A. There will be a double class on the Wednesday following a section final exam to go over common mistakes made on the section final exam. These classes, dates as noted on the Comp calendar, will be held live in class from 2:30 pm – 3:30 pm (day) and 7:30 pm – 8:30 pm (night). Attendance is mandatory. The purpose of these exam reviews is to correct any mistakes and misapplications of the law, so they are not repeated on the course MBE final exam or on the bar exam.
- B. Students who fail a section may review their exams only if they make a request in writing to the Professor who taught the applicable section within seven (7) days after receiving your final scores from that section. All exam reviews will be conducted live, on campus, with the professor present. Some professors may choose to conduct a single group review in lieu of multiple meetings with individual students.
- C. On pre-approved handwritten multiple-choice exams and quizzes, grades will be changed only if the student can show a demonstrable mistake made in scoring the bubble sheet. Please note that students sometimes mark two answers, and sometimes fail to properly erase an answer before choosing another one. These are incorrect answers and will not be changed. The bubble sheet must clearly show one answer chosen – the correct answer – for your score to be changed. This means that, just like on the bar exam, you must be diligent in properly erasing incorrectly marked answers. You should also know that the scanner we use to correct the bubble sheets is extremely accurate. The odds of there being a scanning error are miniscule.
- D. Any questions about missing or incorrect quizzes and exams should be directed to Laura Lussier in the front office: lussier@mslaw.edu. Once Laura receives your request, she will pull the appropriate materials and check for any internal mistakes. This usually addresses the issue. If such does not address the issue, she will direct you to the professor who taught the section, with whom you should deal in attempting to address the situation. The failure to raise an issue with a quiz or exam score, by making an email request to Laura Lussier, within seven (7) days after the final score sheet for the section is delivered results in a waiver of the right to question the accuracy of the scores.
- E. Once you fail a fourth (4th) section of the course, you are disqualified from taking the course final exam and must repeat the course the next time it is offered. After failing four (4) sections, you may continue to attend classes and take section quizzes, but you will not be allowed to take the section final exams nor the final, 200-question, six-hour course final exam.

- F. As you can see, it is important that you take this course seriously from the beginning. Failing a section early on puts you “behind the eight ball” from the start. If you are struggling at the beginning of the course, or anytime thereafter, please contact Professor Dimitriadis (amyd@msslw.edu) immediately to ask for advice on how to succeed. Please do not let deficiencies linger; if you do, it may soon be too late to do anything about it.

- G. Audits of Comparison are not permitted unless you are a student who: (1) has already passed the course, (2) has graduated, and (3) desire to retake the course to help you pass the bar exam.
